In Memory of

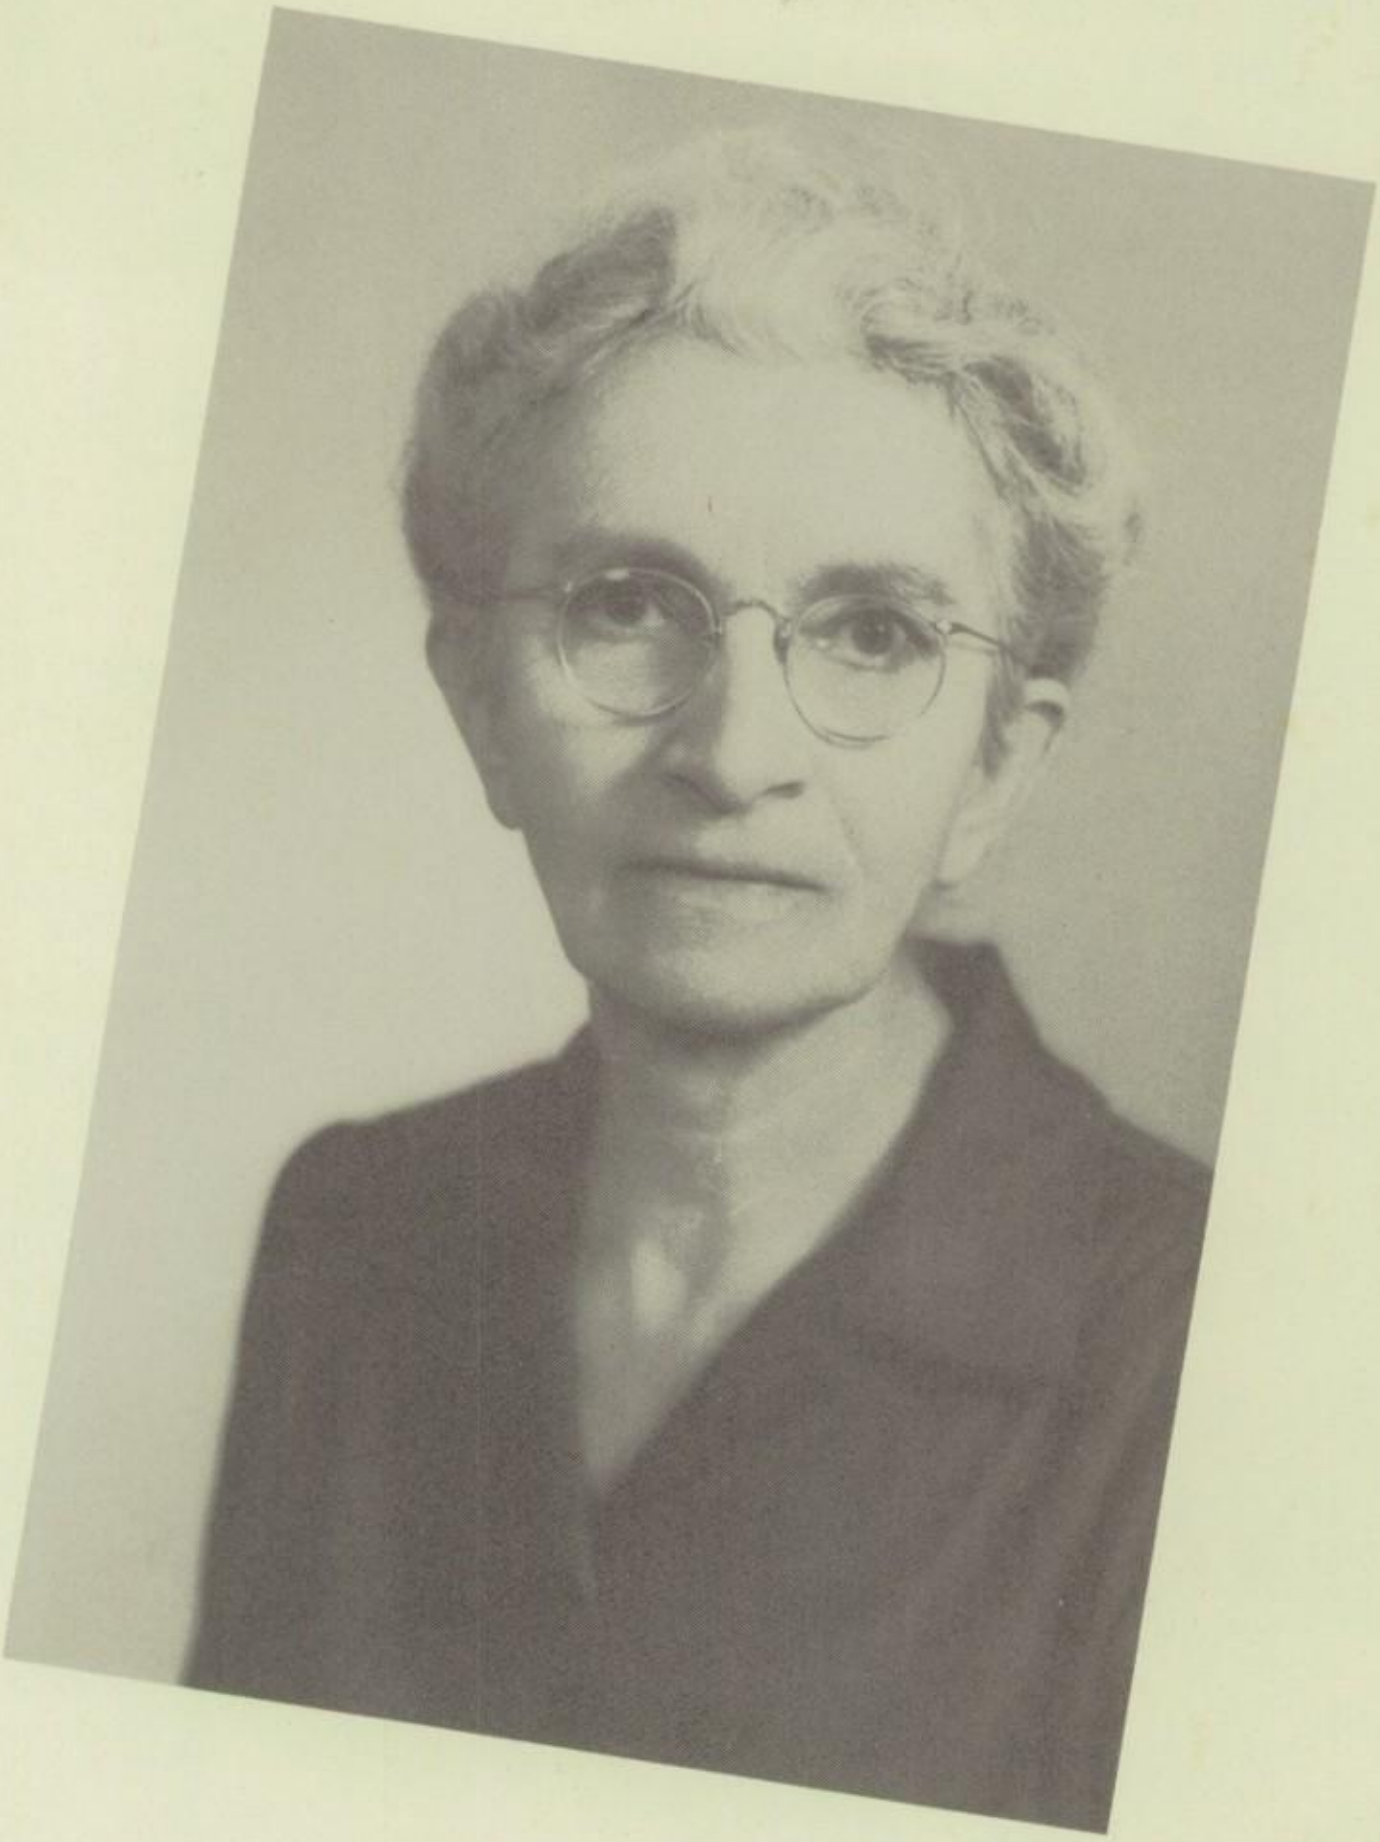
Building Engineer

1951

Come unto Me, all ye that labour
and are heavy laden,
And I will give you rest.

Mathew 11-28



We the Round Up Staff of 1952 dedicate this annual with gratitude and appreciation to Mrs. Fannie Worman for her twenty-two loyal years here at Austin. She has capably performed every task asked of her by the faculty and students; but more than this, we value her friendship.

ENGLISH, SPEECH and LIBRARY

Our thoughts and ideas would have little worth if we knew not how to express them correctly. We may confidently boast that the English department is one of the most advanced, and preparation from English I through VII-B and VIII has produced inestimable results in the ability of expression of our students.

"Enunciate! Project your words across the room. Produce clear forceful tones!" Such instructions in the primary speech classes are not soon forgotten, serving as a skeleton for the advanced studies of drama, senior play, and public speaking.

The library is of inappreciable aid to every class. With our superior amount of material and with the direction conscientiously administered by our librarians there are hardly limits to which one may extend his knowledge in most fields.

Few mistakes are made when careful consideration is given past similar events. Life is a cycle, and by the study of history we beneficiently prepare for the future. Through American History courses familiarity is established with our American heritage which may forever serve as inspiration in our actions. Civics and Modern Problems enable us to know our obligations as citizens.

MISS EMMA EVANS

The value of mathematics can not be over-emphasized. The necessity of its study is not only confined to those scientific professions with which we commonly associate its various courses, but there is also an innate influence essential to success in any field. Its challanges serve to stimulate the mind, while sound organized thinking results from its inherent characteristic of order and symmetry. Genuine decisions of any type are obtained by balancing the fact of the situation like an algebraic equation, or applying them by means of fundamental propositions, theorems, and corollaries in the manner of a geometry problem.

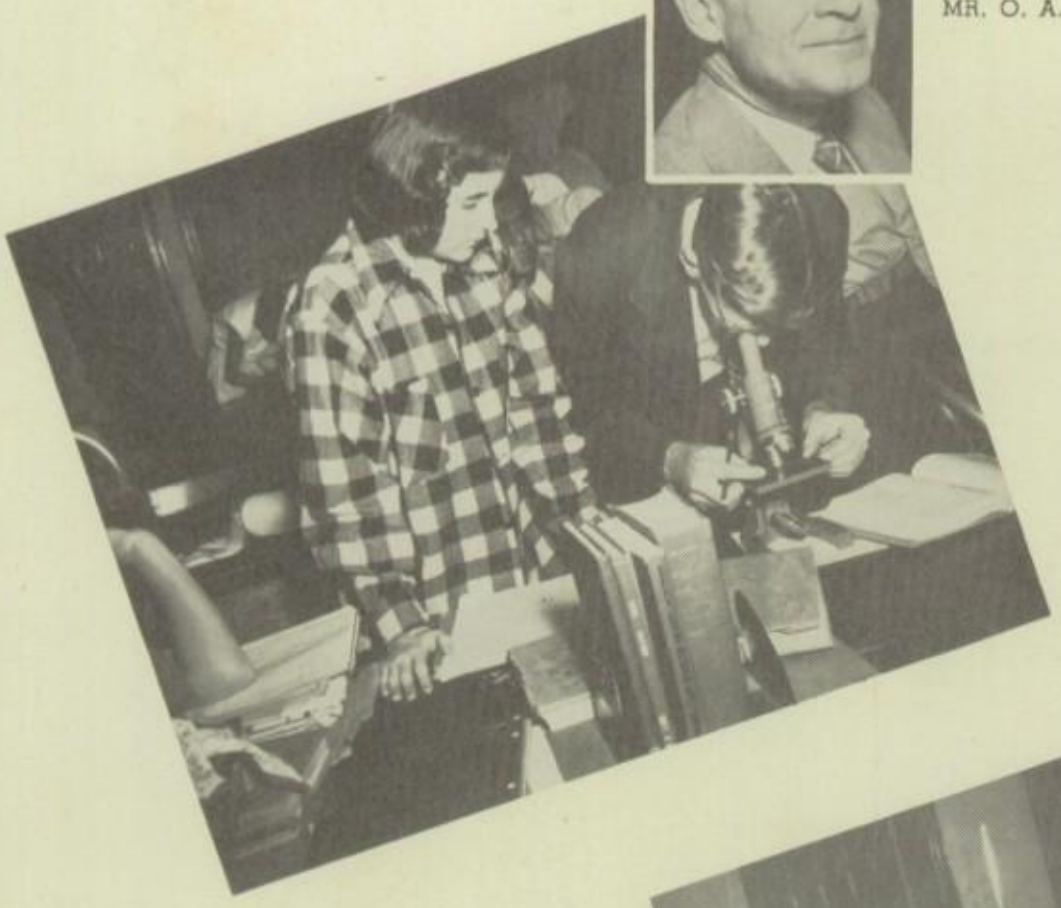
SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

MR. O. A. LABBE



The day is gone when the worth of a country is entirely based on its natural resources. Of greater importance is the status of its scientists who are able to use to the greatest advantage in the shortest time the products available. Tomorrow's world depends to a great extent on the potential scientists of today for whose preparation for his responsibility, the science program has been immensely expanded.

LANGUAGES

The culture of the Old World survives through its languages. Consequently, the language department bears the task of conveying this culture through the teaching of languages. There is also added practicality in learning a foreign tongue, for we have realized the need to associate with and to understand the rest of the world not only through national relations but as friendly individuals as well.

MISS LULU LEE

MRS. KATHERINE ROSS

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

MR. HENRY CUNNINGHAM

MRS. RUBY TAPPER

The commercial department does a wonderful job in preparing the young students of today for the business world of tomorrow. Many prominent business men and women began their careers in a school room.

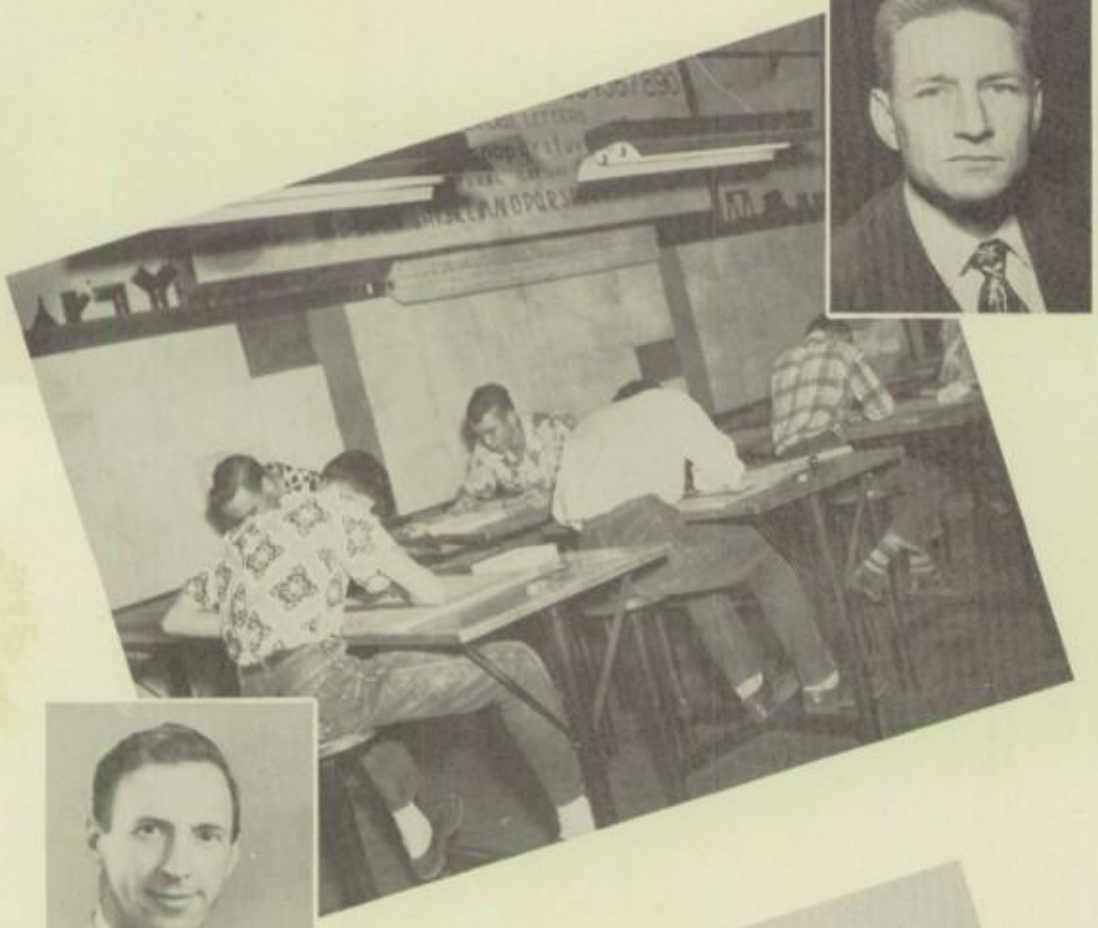
MR. GORDON E. KERR



MR. WILLIS HIGHT

MISS SHIRLEE SHAVER

Art is a wonderful way to express ones feelings towards any subject. Our art department is very fortunate to have such capable teachers to encourage the student's talents.

One subject all boys should include in their school courses is shop. It is an excellent way to teach a boy to use his hands in making useful articles for their homes.

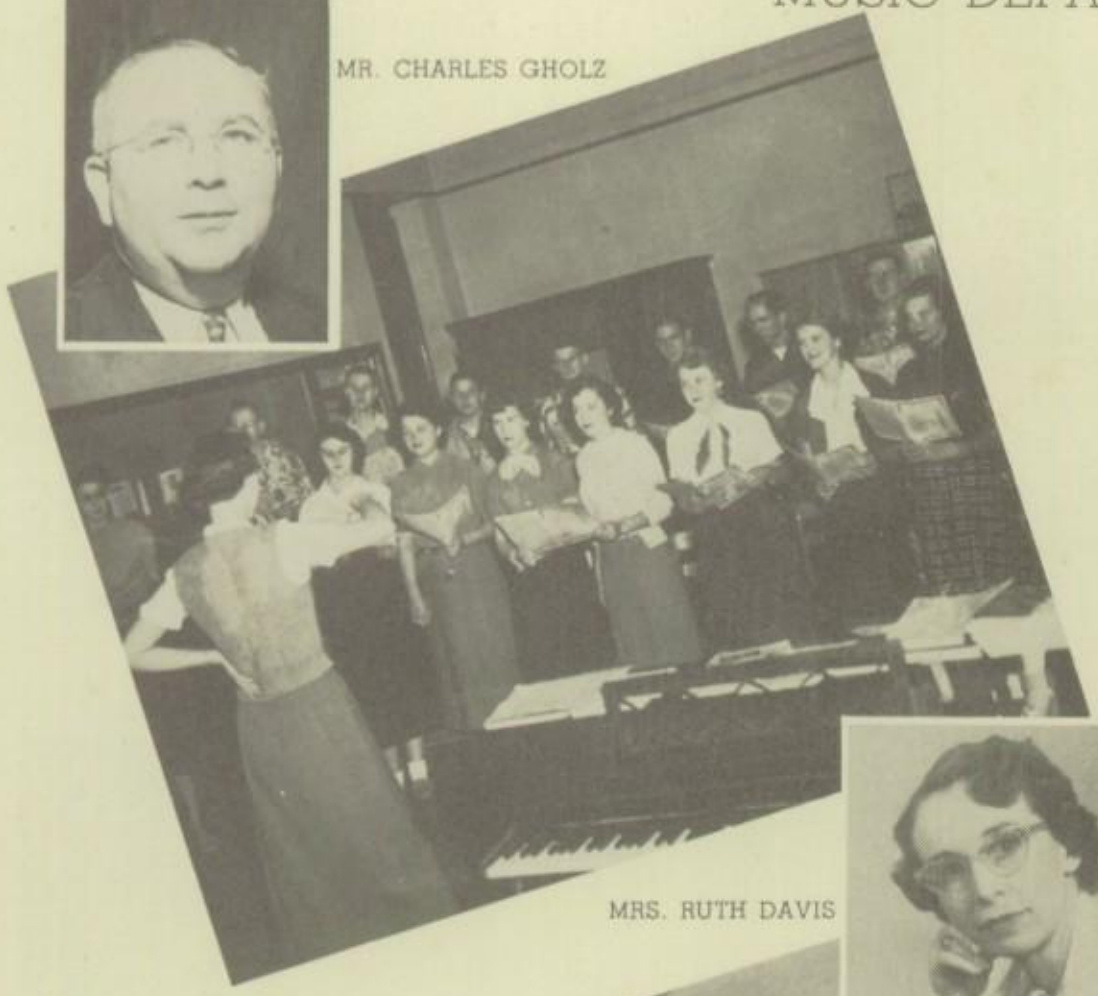
MR. H. K. MORTENSEN

MISS ELSIE REAVES

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

MR. CHARLES GHOLZ



MRS. RUTH DAVIS

MISS BARBARA HENRY

As painting and sculpture are the visual impression of the thoughts, attitudes, and moods of man, so also, is music the way man expresses himself in sound.

Actually more universal and expressive than the solid arts are the sounds of music, both vocal and instrumental. "Music hath power to soothe the savage beast" expresses the ability of song to change a mood or an emotion: We find that we can turn anytime to music for comfort, sympathy, or expression.

MR. GEORGE WEBBER

HOMEMAKING DEPARTMENT

MRS. ELIZABETH SMITH

Homemaking is rapidly becoming a popular course for boys as well as girls. The future homemakers are given the opportunity to learn new ways to prepare foods in the well-equipped and modern school kitchens. The girls are taught to cut and sew their clothes, to interpret dress patterns and to use color schemes to suit their personality. Every girl should try and include homemaking in their school programs.

MISS BEATRICE MARKGRAFF

MISS RUTH CADY

MRS. BETTY CARSON

Poise and gracefullness are important assets to any girl. This is what they strive to acquire through their daily P.E. class. The Girls' Physical Education Department offers a varied schedule of courses, as P.E. I-VIII, Modern Dance, Tap Dance, and Tennis.

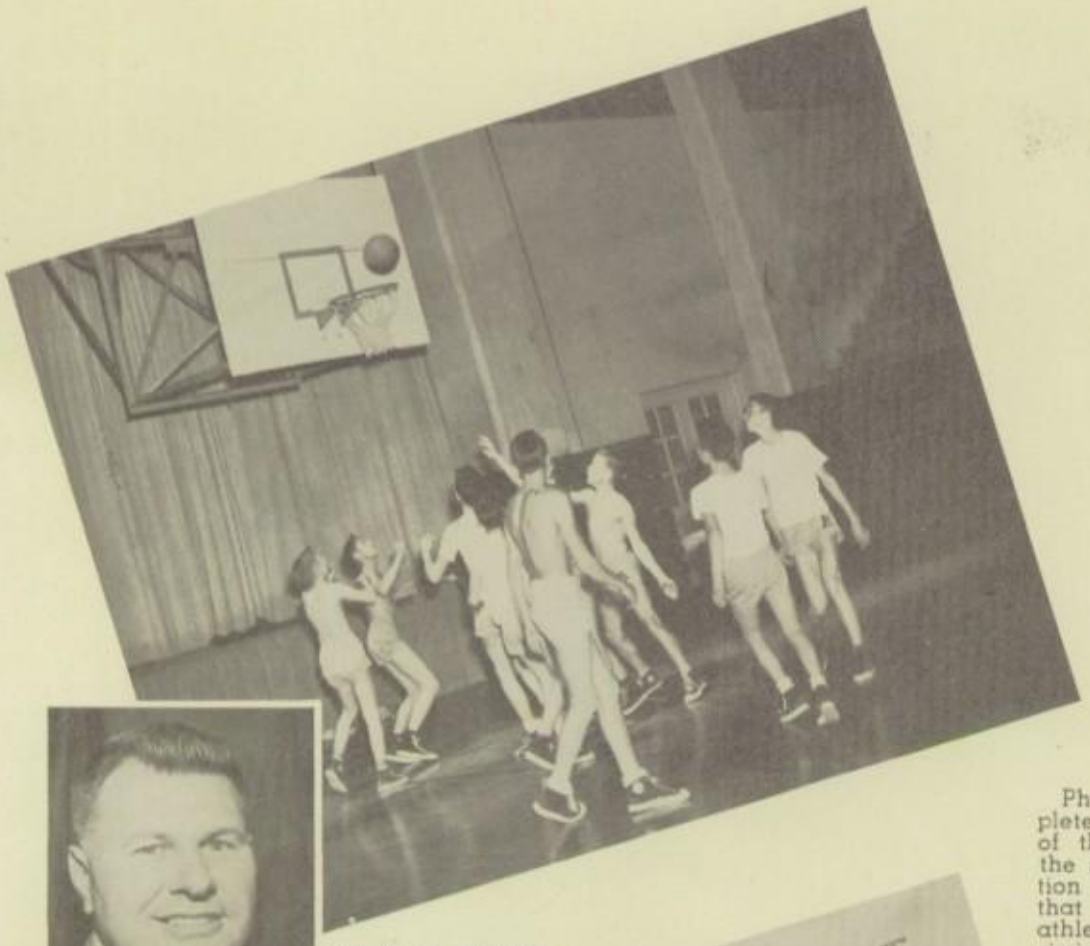
BOYS' P.E. DEPARTMENT



MR. K. C. BROWN

Physical education makes possible complete self-development, for the functions of the mind are partially dependent on the state of the body. We find confirmation of this in ancient Greek philosophy that armoniously combined learnind and athletics. Thus included in the Austinites cirriculum is our commendable P.E. program.

CALENDAR

SEPTEMBER

School started with much that is new especially the Freshman who invaded our school. We all greeted our new Principal Mr. Keith Appleby and his assistant Mr. Ray Kelso. The soc hop was the first social event. It was beneficial to all those who don't wear shoes. Our first pep rally showed that Austin has lots of spirit. The month ended with the band having an all out picnic.

OCTOBER

The greatest thing that happened in October was the mass migration of Austinites to the little town of Plainview. This month was also the time for the regular initiation into the National Honor Society. "Curse You Jack Dalton" was the stage hit, and the talent show brought new stars into the limelight. On October 25 the school turned into a kindergarten while all the high senior played games on Kid Day. The 30th was a lonely day for Austin as the mighty seniors spent the day at T. W. C.

NOVEMBER

November started with our first home game with Ysleta. After this game we were still friendly enough to invite them and the rest of the schools to the F.H.A. rally held here. On November 12 we started picking beauties. What hard work! The next evening our parents found out about us at the Open House, the night which is dreaded each year. Our football team scrouged Bowie and Jefferson. Thanksgiving came and we played E.P.H.S. Then we helped them celebrate at the victory dance held here.

DECEMBER

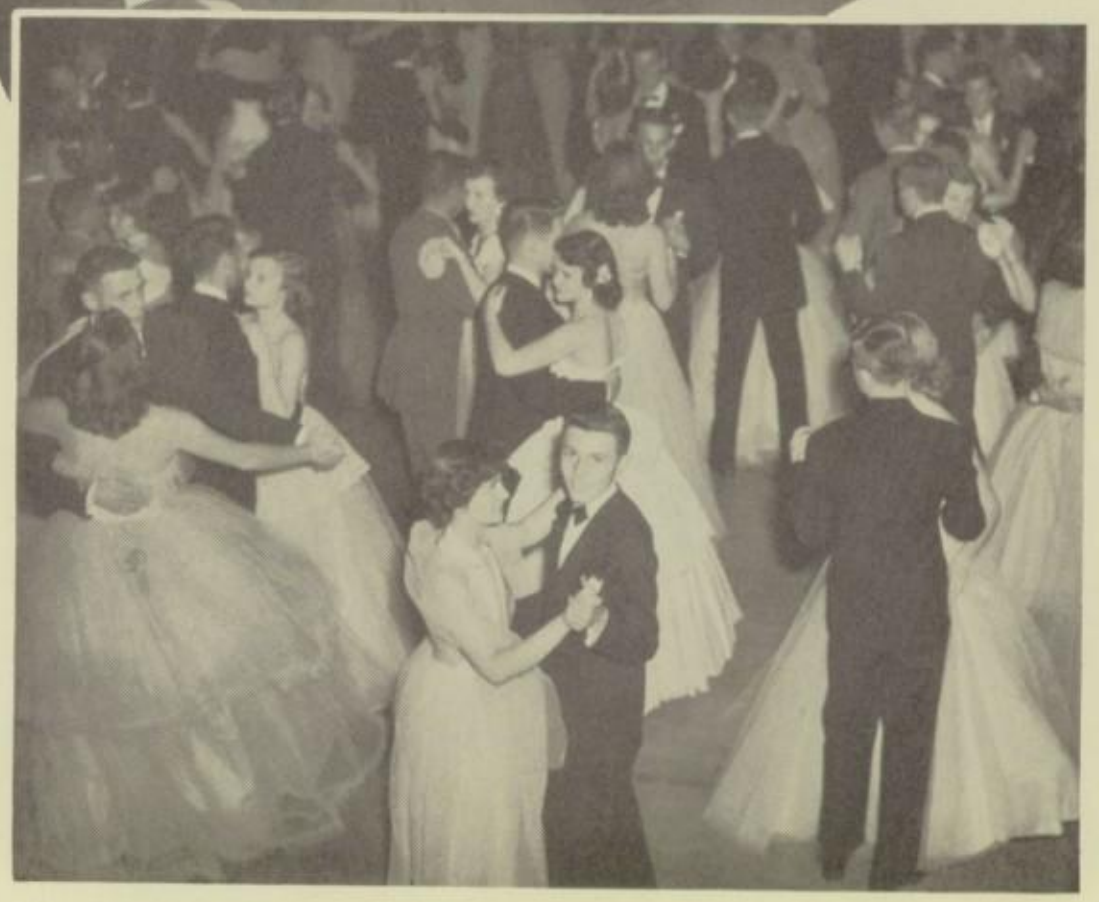
"Come To My House" held its world premier with the seniors showing their acting ability. We took the faculty out of mothballs by helping them put on a volley game in assembly. Keith Appleby was chosen most valuable player. Our cagers started making points on the 10th. On the 15th the football team had their banquet. The Christmas assembly was a beautiful beginning for the holiday spirit which invaded Austin. The last day of school before vacation was given over to preparations for the famous beauty dance sponsored by the Round Up Staff. It turned into a home coming dance welcoming Ex-Austinites home for the holidays. Five beauties were honored.

FEBRUARY

After January Seniors were graduated, the spring Student Council was installed. The May Senior Class elected officers. Betty Jones was chosen Queen of Austin-in-Action. School went western as the rodeo came to town. Everyone was cowboy or cowgirl but no Indians. The Rifle Team was rated sixth in the nation. Austin's girl's tennis team defeated Duncan. A pep assembly honored the basketball and tennis teams. It was also an assembly to increase school spirit. Val Grant was chosen R.O.T.C. Queen. Dick Black made All-District Basketball.

MARCH

Austin-in-Action, the biggest affair of the year, was a success as Betty Jones ruled as queen. Class princesses escorted her. The Whites won over the Browns in spring practice climax. Austin's football team will strive to be undefeated next season. National Honor Society took in twenty-five new members. Round-Up met its deadline. E.P.H.S. came to Austin for an exchange assembly with lots of talent. The Student Council gave a coke party for new Austinites who have recently moved to El Paso. Last semester's Curse You Jack Dalton play proceeds furnished the halls with a new refrigerated water cooler and the whole school was grateful. Toastmaster's Club for this fine addition to the school. The Military Ball was attended by all cadets. The Freshmen and Sophomores got together and held a joint dance.



APRIL

April Fool's Day finds everyone in Austin fooling around reading their foolish Fooeys, Austin's foolish paper. April 15 sees the Seniors roaming the halls in rompers. It is Kiddie Day again and the cafeteria served warm formulas to all the Seniors. Twirp Season came and most of the boys were running from the (girls?). It ended with the Twirp Dance and crowning of the King, the boy who had the most dates during the season. The Seniors had a fine vacation from school on their long-awaited trip. The Morning Watch, an interdenominational religious meeting grew so large that it was moved from a class room to the Junior Hi gym.

MAY

May came and brought everyone smiling faces because it's only one more month until school's out. The Senior Prom was the last dance many a boy and girl will go to at Austin. It was a wonderful affair. Our R.O.T.C. Department sounded retreat after school. A very nice ceremony for taking down the colors was attended by many. We had two Senior plays, one on the 14th the other on the 24th. The seniors had their Baccalaureate Service on the 25th, and were still satisfied from the Banquet on the 23rd. Then Seniors graduated and the lower classmen finally got out of school. Have a nice vacation.

"LOOK BEFORE YOU LEAP" is a good slogan to remember in all your endeavors through life. Remember, too, that even though thrift is not on your prescribed schedule, it is one of the most important of all the lessons you've learned during your years of schooling. If you learn the value of thrift you have made a great stride toward success in your life.

Having endured another 180 school days, the time has come to say good bye. We have cheered our teams, applauded assembly programs and senior plays together, and worried through countless exams. Now it is over and time to say thank you to all those who have helped to make this year a success. As editor of the 1952 Round-up, I wish to thank the staff for its hard work, the sponsors for their patience, and the student body for its generosity.
